

The International Grains Council (IGC) would like to inform you that our next conference will be held on 11 and 12 June 2019 at Congress Centre (<https://www.congresscentre.co.uk/>), 28 Great Russell Street, London. The event will be preceded by a reception on 10 June marking the 70th anniversary of the International Grains Council.

We really would like you to join us on this very special occasion.

The 2018 conference attracted more than 350 delegates from over 60 countries reflecting the quality of the programme and speakers, strengthening its position as an established platform for networking and prospecting.

This year, we aim to welcome even more participants from the grains value chain and to identify new opportunities in a vibrant commodities market. Several other grain-related events will be taking place in London during that week ensuring a strong participation from the grains sector.

Recently, the grains, oilseeds and rice markets have been more volatile directly affecting economic growth and food security. To discuss these issues, we are planning to organise 5 sessions on the first day dealing with macro-economic developments, currency markets, a focus on Africa, international trade, blockchain, trading activities, new technologies to deal with climate change and risk management tools for the grain business. There will be 4 workshops on the second day on grains, oilseeds, rice and logistics and shipping.

For more information about the conference, our confirmed speakers, programme and sponsors so far, please follow this link: <https://www.igc.int/en/conference/confhome.aspx>

We look forward to meeting and greeting you in June.

Regards,

Mr Philippe Pestelle
